On September 1, 1979, in honour of the conference of the International Firefighting Association (CTIF) organized by the USSR and the World Championship in firefighting sports, that was held at the Dinamo Stadium and technical exhibition of firefighting was solemnly opened at Hanzas Street 5, future place of firefighting museum . In 1980, the exhibition received the status of a museum.

Sincere thanks to the authors, founders, firefighters and civil protection staff and veterans of the museum, the museum's volunteers, patrons and others who helps and promote the museum's growth!
